

fcc, as a flight attendant i take offense to the idea of extending cell phone use on aircraft. to compromise not only our safety but that of the general public, is unexecutable. the tension that has already changed the airline business doesn't need to be tested again.